- (2) that the Head of People Services be authorised to make all the necessary arrangements.

Verbal updates on current recruitments

The Chief Executive provided members of the committee with an update on the Director of Adult Social Services (DASS) recruitment which was currently progressing, informing members that seven applications had been received and were being assessed for technical shortlisting later in the day. Committee members would be updated later in the week, following the shortlisting process and confirmation from candidates. It was confirmed that the process used in respect of the Director of Corporate Services post was a good one and would be followed for the DASS post with some modifications. The Chief Executive asked that any committee members who wished to take a role in the stage 1 part of the process for the DASS post advise her accordingly.

The Chief Executive also updated the committee on the Head of Education vacancy. Following views from external parties as to the level of the post and the nature of the role the Director of Children's Services had recommended that the post be a full time role (rather than term time only) and at Assistant Director level rather than head of service. It was considered that these changes (with a difference in grade of only one grade at a cost of circa £25,000, which is included in the proposed MTFP) would attract a better field of candidates and better address current priorities around issues relating to LJAR and SEND amongst others. The Chief Executive after discussion with the Leader and Executive portfolio holder was minded to support this proposal, subject to MTFP approval of the budget addition, and implement this recommendation. The committee supported the Chief Executive in this decision.

About North Somerset

North Somerset is part of the South West of England and situated on the M5 corridor. It extends from the edge of Bristol and the River Avon in the North, to the River Axe and the Mendip Hills in the South.

North Somerset is an area of contrasts from a coastline made up of cliffs and sandy beaches, to beautiful countryside with wooded hills, open moorland, wetlands, rhynes, reed beds and rich pasture land, with two thirds of the area greenbelt or an area of outstanding natural beauty.

There are many district communities within the area which includes 35 rural parishes and the four towns of Weston-super-Mare, a large seaside resort; Clevedon, a Victorian seaside town, Nailsea, a new town built around the original village; and Portishead, a seaside town with its own marina and views across the River Severn and the two Severn Bridges.

North Somerset Council plays an important role in the life of the communities within the area and provides services to around 201,000 people in partnership with the private and public sectors, the voluntary sector and local people. The majority of our employees work from two bases in Weston-super-Mare and Clevedon.

North Somerset has a reasonably broad economic structure supporting defence, engineering, food processing, printing and packaging as well as agriculture, catering and the care industry. Tourism makes a significant contribution to the economic well-being of the area.

There are excellent roads and rail links to London and Bristol, and to Devon and Cornwall and the south west. Air transport is available at Bristol International Airport, which is situated in the North Somerset area, and there are port facilities at Royal Portbury Dock, which has contributed to attracting many new businesses to the area.

The council's headquarters are situated in Weston-super-Mare, conveniently placed within walking distance of the shops, other town centre facilities, the railway station and bus stops. Weston-super-Mare is one of the premier holiday resorts in the West Country, and is the largest town in the area. It offers a large range of shops and restaurants that offer dishes from virtually every corner of the world. Local schools provide high standards of education, and there is a wide choice of housing in the area, both in the towns and surrounding villages.

essential criteria listed in the person specification, we will guarantee you an interview. We will also make any reasonable adjustments for disabled people to enable equal access to the recruitment process and ongoing employment.

Data protection

Information provided by you as part of your application will be used in the recruitment process. Any data about you will be held securely with access restricted to those involved in dealing with your application and in the recruitment process. Once this process is completed the data relating to unsuccessful applicants will be stored confidentially for up to six months and then destroyed. If you are the successful candidate, your application form will be retained and form the basis of your personal record.

Completing your application form

Job title and reference number

Please enter these details on the application form so that we can identify which job you are applying for. The job title and job reference number can be found on the advertisement.

Employment history

All experience is valued and we recognise that many people have worked in a variety of situations even if it has not been full time paid employment. Please list any work experience you have which you think would help you in the job for which you are applying, including voluntary work, temporary jobs, part-time or vacation work.

Education and training

Please use this section to provide details of any qualifications or training that you have completed or are currently undertaking. Include any special skills training, day release, or evening classes. You may be asked to provide proof of qualifications and training either at interview, or if you are offered the job.

Relevant experience

This is where you tell us how you meet the selection criteria for the job. Your application will be assessed against the criteria detailed in the person specification. Do not repeat your job history, but look at the specific requirements of the job and provide evidence that you have the skills, abilities and experience to meet those requirements. Give specific examples if possible. The evidence you provide does not necessarily have to be work based

– it may be experience you have gained at home raising a family, doing voluntary work or from activities that you do in your spare time.

References

References will be required for all jobs within the council. Wherever possible your current employer should be named as someone who can be approached for a reference. It is council policy to approach current employers, regardless of whether candidates give them as referees. You should note, however, that if you request that a referee is not approached before interview, this will be respected wherever possible.

Other references should include previous / most recent employers. If you have not been employed before, you should give the names of teachers or lecturers who know you sufficiently well to comment on your ability to do the job. You can also give the names of professional people who know you well, and who are not friends or relatives. It is helpful if your referees are aware that you have used their name before we contact them.

Finally, do not forget to sign and date your application form! If you send your application form to us electronically or online, then the provision of your name and date in the relevant section or pressing "submit" online, will be treated as a signature for declaration purposes.

Information for applicants for positions involving working with children or vulnerable adults

The position for which you have is exempt from the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974. If you are successful at interview and provisionally offered employment, you will be required to complete a Disclosure and Barring Service application form which will be passed to the Disclosure and Barring Service for a record search. Any information received from the Disclosure and Barring Service will be treated in the strictest confidence and will be destroyed after use; in accordance with the Disclosure and Barring Service Code of Practice on the Storage and Handling of Disclosure Information (a copy of the council's Storage and Handling of Disclosure Information Policy is available on request).

Having a criminal record will not automatically exclude you from employment unless it is considered that the conviction is relevant and renders you unsuitable for appointment to the post applied for. In reaching this decision, factors such as the nature of the offence, how long ago it was committed and how old you were at the time will be taken into consideration. However there are certain council positions working with vulnerable groups where it is unlawful for the council to recruit people with certain convictions or where they have been included on certain Government lists* e.g. Protection of Children Act List, List 99 or Protection of Vulnerable People List.

Failure to declare that you have a conviction (spent or unspent) may disqualify you from appointment or may result in your dismissal if a discrepancy subsequently comes to light following your employment.

If you have a criminal record and are unsure as to whether you are required to declare this in relation to your application, further guidance is available by contacting Human Resources on telephone 01275 888 788, human.resources@n-somerset.gov.uk or the Recruiting Manager. This will not be part of the interview process.

 Please note that under the Protection of Children Act 1999, the Care Standards Act 2000 and the Criminal Justice and Court Services Act 2000 it is a criminal offence if an individual who is disqualified from working with children or vulnerable adults knowingly applies for, offers to do, accepts or does any work with children or vulnerable adults. Similarly it is a criminal offence for the council to offer a childcare position or a position working with vulnerable adults to a 'disqualified' person. In signing the 'Declaration by applicant' section in the application form you are confirming that you are not disqualified from working with either children or vulnerable adults.

Policy statement on recruitment of ex-offenders

North Somerset Council is determined to make all efforts to prevent discrimination or unfair treatment against any staff or potential staff regardless of offending background that does not create a risk to children and vulnerable adults.

People with criminal records applying for positions (paid or unpaid) with the council should be treated according to their merits and to any special criteria of the position (e.g. caring for children and vulnerable adults, which debars some in this category).

North Somerset Council will ensure that as a 'Registered Body' it observes the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) Code of Practice on disclosure information. All applicants for positions with the council will be provided with a copy of the council's Policy Statement on the employment of Ex.Offenders and will also be made aware of the existence of the DBS Code of Practice on handling Disclosures, a copy of which will be provided on request.

The council will ensure that all staff involved in the recruitment process are suitably trained to identify and assess the relevant of criminal offences and to take appropriate action.

For those positions requiring a DBS Disclosure, all applicants will be informed at an early stage through recruitment literature issued that a Disclosure will be requested in the event of the individual being provisionally offered the position. Details of a person's criminal record will always be maintained as strictly confidential and will not be passed to persons not authorised to receive it.

It is the council's policy to ask applicants questions about criminal records to ensure that people are not inadvertently placed in vulnerable positions within the council. For certain positions working with children or vulnerable adults applicants will also be required to declare any 'spent' convictions as defined by the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.

Having a criminal record in itself should not necessarily prevent a person from being appointed to any post, unless the offence statutorily debars the person or renders the person unsuitable to work with children or vulnerable adults. Where it is felt, however, that an offence might mean that the person presents a risk then that person should not be appointed.

If an applicant reveals a criminal record and/or other information which could render the applicant potentially unsuitable then the 'responsible' recruiting manager will arrange to discuss the Disclosure with the applicant in the first instance and before any final decision is made regarding the suitability of the applicant. Following this consultation the recruiting manager is required to contact the Human Resources Service and arrange to discuss the application in the light of the information disclosed by the DBS and the applicant before a recruitment decision is made and confirmed to the applicant. Generally, a decision to reject an applicant because of, or partly because of, a criminal record should relate to an aspect of the person specification which is seen to be unmet. If possible, an applicant in those circumstances should be advised of why their application has been rejected.

Failure to disclose relevant information could lead to the withdrawal of an offer of employment or other non-employment arrangement e.g. voluntary work or, if subsequently discovered once confirmed in position, could lead to the termination of employment/non-employment arrangement.
